

Associate Attorney – Intellectual Property

Tucker Ellis LLP has a growing IP practice with IP attorneys in its San Francisco, Los Angeles, Cleveland, and St. Louis locations. We are seeking candidates for a patent prosecution role in our San Francisco office. Ideal candidates will have a degree in computer science, software engineering, or electrical engineering, have two or more years of experience, and be experienced and knowledgeable in enterprise software. Must be registered to practice with the USPTO. We offer a competitive salary, generous benefit package, and the opportunity to develop your career in a unique and enthusiastic culture. If you are highly motivated and looking for a different kind of law firm that demonstrates professionalism, trust, loyalty and respect, please visit our website and submit your resume and cover letter to larry.canziani@tuckerellis.com